Crayons, markers, or colored pencils
Construction paper (red, orange, or yellow, for backing)

Paper towel roll (or additional construction paper for a homemade cylinder)

Use the image

Instructions:

Color the Flame:
Begin by coloring the flame design. Use bright, fiery colors like red, orange, and yellow to make it vibrant.

Prepare the Construction Paper:
Choose a piece of construction paper slightly larger than the flame design. This will serve as the backing to provide extra sturdiness.

Attach the Flame to the Backing:
Apply glue evenly on the back of the colored flame or use the stapler to attach the flame to the construction paper. Allow it to dry if glued.

Cut Out the Flame:
Carefully cut around the flame.

Prepare the Torch Handle:
If using a paper towel roll, ensure it's empty and clean. If you don’t have a paper towel roll, make a cylinder by rolling a piece of construction paper tightly and securing it with glue or staples along the edge.

Attach the Flame to the Handle:
Attach the base of the flame to one end of the paper towel roll or the homemade paper cylinder. Use glue or a stapler to secure it in place.

Final Touches:
If desired, you can decorate the handle of the torch by painting it, wrapping it with colored paper, or adding stickers to personalize your Olympic torch.

Enjoy Your Torch:
Your Olympic torch is now ready! Use it as a decoration, for role-playing, or as part of a sports-themed event.

This craft is a great way to engage children in creative activities while learning about the Olympic Games. Enjoy making your very own Olympic torch!
