Directions:

Welcome to the "Galactic Get-to-Know-You Journey," where students embark on an interstellar adventure to not only explore the far reaches of the cosmos but also to deepen their connections with fellow space travelers. Follow these directions to navigate the game successfully:

Objective:

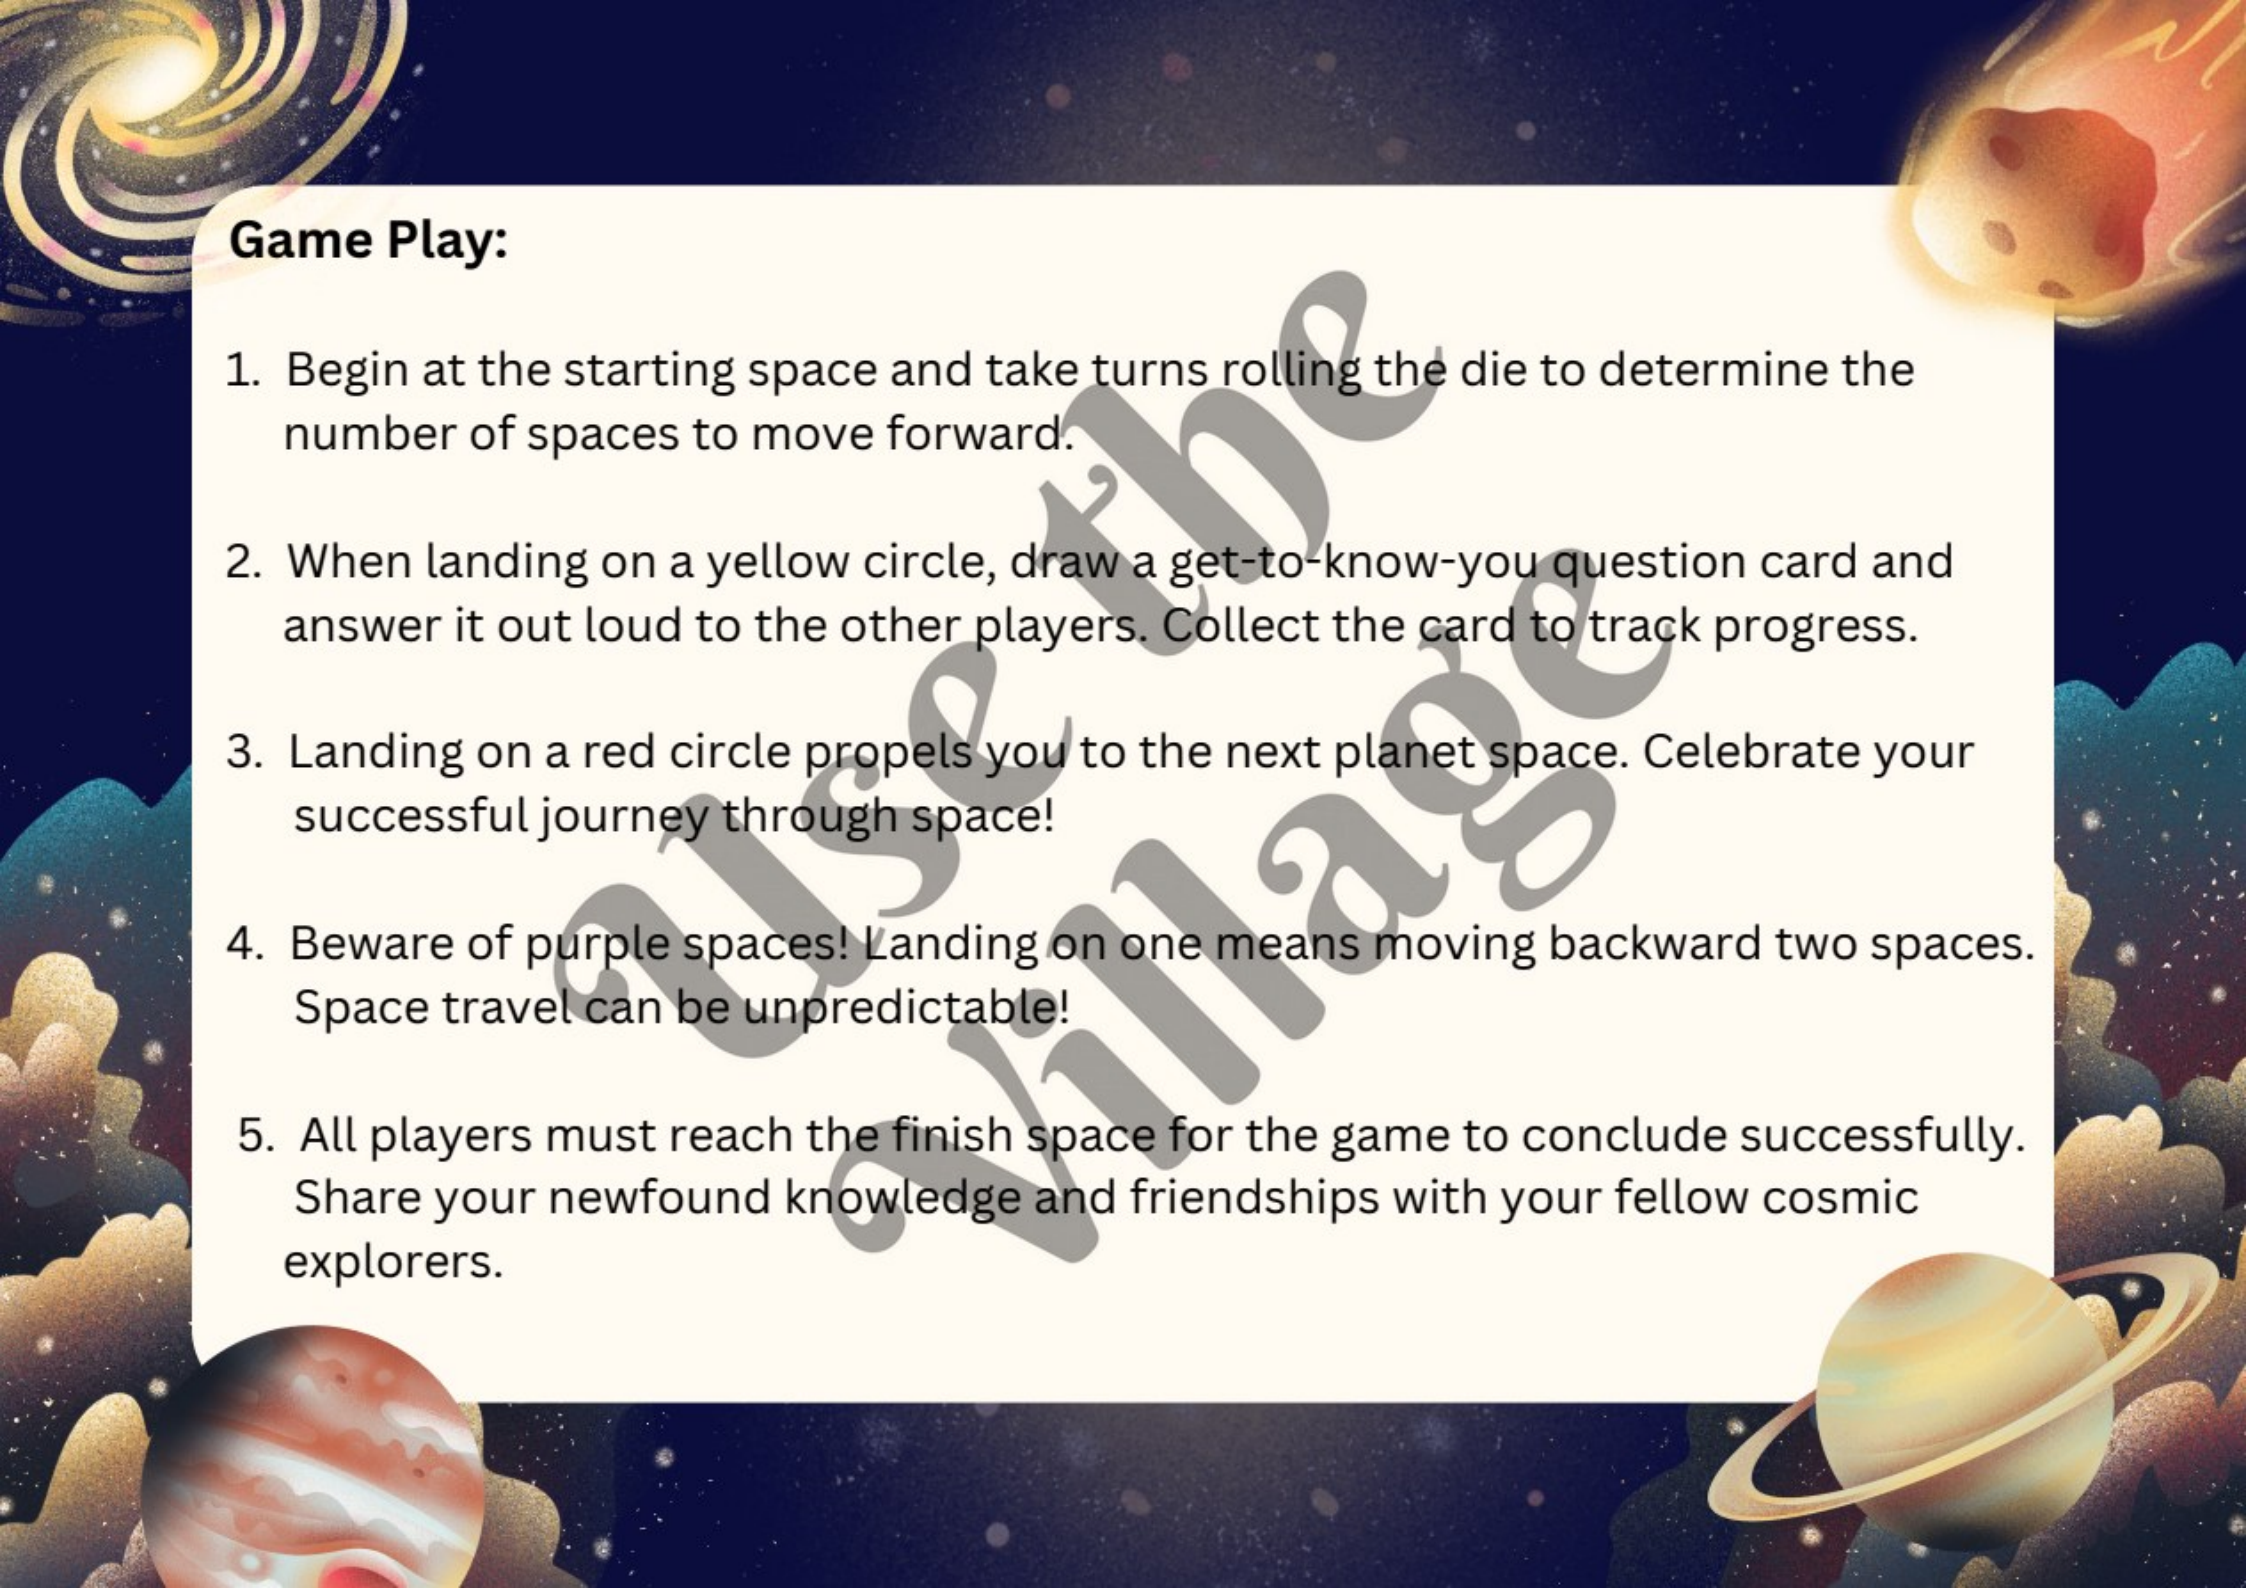

Reach the finish space by answering get-to-know-you questions and mastering the challenges of outer space.

Components:

Game board featuring planets, yellow circles, red circles, and purple spaces.

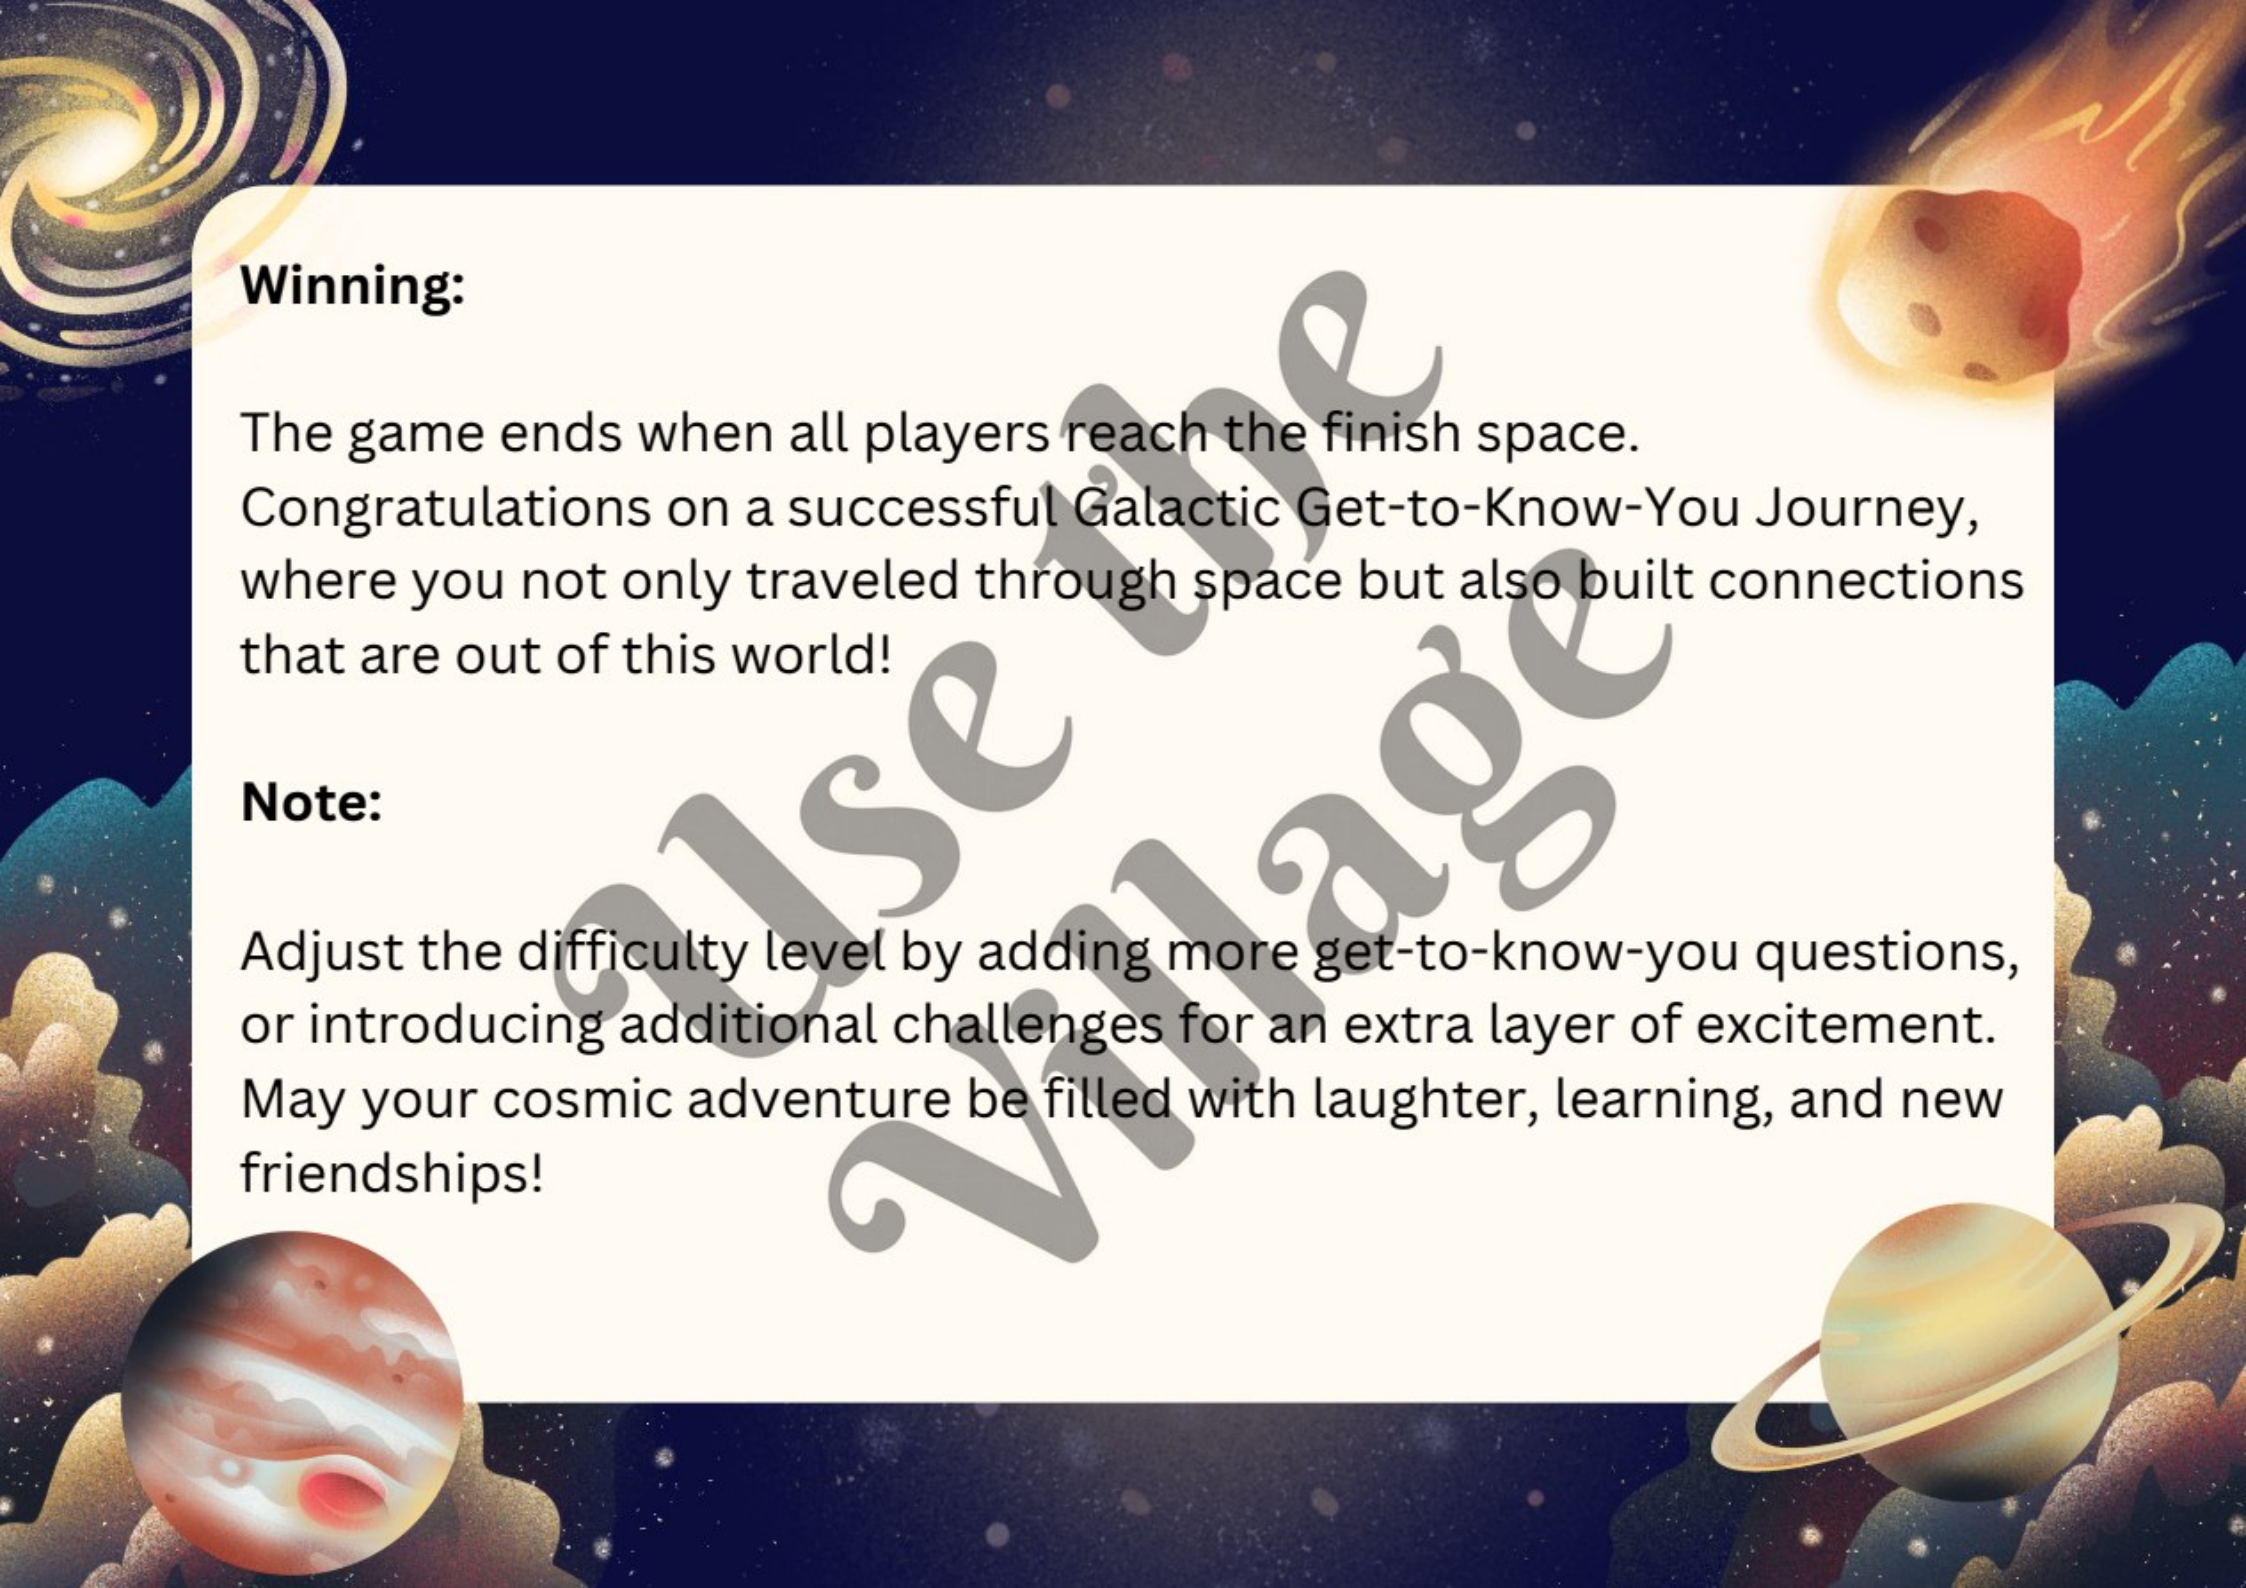

Die for movement.

Get-to-know-you question cards.

Game Play:

1. Begin at the starting space and take turns rolling the die to determine the number of spaces to move forward.
2. When landing on a yellow circle, draw a get-to-know-you question card and answer it out loud to the other players. Collect the card to track progress.
3. Landing on a red circle propels you to the next planet space. Celebrate your successful journey through space!
4. Beware of purple spaces! Landing on one means moving backward two spaces. Space travel can be unpredictable!
5. All players must reach the finish space for the game to conclude successfully. Share your newfound knowledge and friendships with your fellow cosmic explorers.

Winning:

The game ends when all players reach the finish space. Congratulations on a successful Galactic Get-to-Know-You Journey, where you not only traveled through space but also built connections that are out of this world!

Note:

Adjust the difficulty level by adding more get-to-know-you questions, or introducing additional challenges for an extra layer of excitement. May your cosmic adventure be filled with laughter, learning, and new friendships!
